DenizBank, noticing this vital deficiency, has taken leading steps for the last three years in SME banking and offered one after another new products and services designed for our enterprises. And the chambers of commerce representing our enterprises helped and supported us in every phase of this process. And today, we are feeling the proud of activating one more beautiful example of this fruitful synergy created nation-wide between financial sector and professional organizations. As DenizBank, we grew by 167 % in the last two years. We are now offering the “Support Credit for your Capital”, which I believe, will add a new impetus to this rapid growing trend, at the disposal of our enterprises with the contributions of Istanbul Chamber of Commerce. “Support Credit for your Capital” which we will be offering to the members of Istanbul Chamber of Commerce is a first in this sector thanks to its advantages.
