Markets notes

Global markets traded cautiously as stronger-than-expected US data pushed back expectations for Federal Reserve rate cuts. US factory activity surprised to the upside, with the ISM Manufacturing PMI rising into expansion territory for the first time in a year, reinforcing the view that economic momentum and corporate profitability remain resilient. This backdrop led markets to reassess the timing and pace of policy easing, while attention now shifts to Friday's nonfarm payrolls report, although its release could be delayed by a partial US government shutdown. Political developments also stayed in focus after President Donald Trump nominated Kevin Warsh as the next Fed Chair, a pick viewed as relatively hawkish and supportive of a more cautious approach to easing. Separately, trade headlines added to the narrative after Trump announced a deal with India that reduces mutual tariffs in exchange for New Delhi halting purchases of Russian oil, easing a key source of bilateral trade tension.

US equity markets reflected the mixed macro and policy signals, with gains capped despite solid economic data. The S&P 500 ended the session up by 0.54%, while the Dow Jones gained 1.05% and Nasdaq added 0.56% as stronger growth signals against reduced expectations for near-term rate cuts. The dollar extended its recent strength, supported by the repricing of Fed expectations following the ISM data and the perceived hawkish tilt associated with Warsh's nomination. Market participants continue to monitor incoming labour market data for confirmation on whether the economy can sustain momentum without reigniting inflation pressures.

In Turkey, Borsa İstanbul saw profit-taking following the recent strong rally, with the BIST 100 declining 1.57% to close at 13,620.95 with XBANK slipped -1.24%. Focus is now on upcoming January inflation data, with consensus expectations pointing to a monthly CPI increase of 4.28%. According to January data, the Turkish Statistical Institute (TÜİK) will change its base year from 2003 to 2025 for the new Consumer Price Index (CPI) series. In the new CPI series, group-level weights will be derived from national accounts household final consumption expenditure data, reflecting household consumption trends in a more comprehensive and up-to-date manner. In addition, seasonally adjusted CPI indicators are planned to be published on the same day as the CPI figures.

On the policy front, appointments to the CBRT were announced, with Fatma Özkul and Gazi İshak Kara named as Deputy Governors and Monetary Policy Committee members, a move closely watched for signals on policy continuity. On the corporate side, within our coverage Akbank's financial results were followed within the ongoing earnings season, while markets remain attentive to how macro data and policy signals will shape near-term pricing dynamics.

Equites:

TUPRS: Widening in differentials despite ongoing decline in cracks / neutral

Tüpraş shared January product cracks and differentials in its February investor presentation.

Accordingly, while average Brent oil price was 62.7 USD/barrel in December, it was 66.8 USD/barrel in January.

Diesel cracks fell MoM by USD2.5 per barrel to USD20.5 per barrel (January 2025: USD16.8 per barrel). Jet fuel cracks was down by USD2.0 per barrel MoM to USD21.1 per barrel (January 2025: USD13.8 per barrel). Gasoline cracks declined by USD5.2 per barrel monthly to USD12.4 per barrel (January 2025: USD11.6 per barrel). We may say that there was downward course in the cracks of LPG, naphtha and high sulphur fuel oil which do not have a significant share in total sales.

When we look at the cost side, we see a significant widening in differentials on average.

Despite the ongoing decline in cracks, we consider January data as neutral thanks to major cracks remaining above January 2025 levels and the widening differentials.

Overview: Our 12-month target price for Tüpraş is TRY273.00 and recommendation is BUY. The stock outperformed BIST 100 Index by 8% YTD. According to the last 12-month data, the stock trades at 17.7x P/E and 7.1x EV/EBITDA multiples.

AKBNK: Financial Results / neutral

Akbank announced a net profit of TRY 18.33 billion in its unaudited 4Q25 financials, in line with market expectations. Net profit increased by 30% compared to the previous period, doubling the same period last year, with return on equity reaching 25.0% during this period. The full-year 2025 profit figure increased by 35.1% year-on-year to TRY 57.25 billion, while return on equity was 21.5%. While we view the announced results as neutral, we assess the bank's 2025 guidance as slightly positive.

- We maintain our BUY recommendation for Akbank, with a target price of TRY 120.40 (previous: TRY 107.20).
- 2026 expectations. Within the framework of Akbank's expectations of 4% real economic growth, 22-25% CPI, and 28-31% policy rate, i) TL credit growth above 30% and foreign currency credit growth above 10%, ii) net credit risk of around 2.0% (flat year-on-year), excluding currency effects, and a non-performing loan ratio of around 3.5%, iii) a net interest margin of around 4% (up 150 bps year-on-year), iv) net fee and commission income growth above 30%, and v) operating expense growth in the low 30% range. As a result of this set of forecasts, it expects return on equity to be in the high 20% range. We also model a 140 bps margin increase, ~31% annual growth in loans, flat net credit risk including currency effects, 31% net fee and commission income growth, and 33% operating expense growth, as it may be able to price deposits downwards more rapidly during this period. In line with these expectations, we forecast a return on equity of 28.2% in 2026 and expect net profit to increase by 71% compared to 2025.

Rating

Deniz Yatırım analysts calculate 12-monthly target values (prices) and their associated potential return by using one or more valuation method for each stock. Our 12-monthly rating system includes 3 different general investment recommendations which are BUY, HOLD and SELL.

BUY: This refers to a valuation where a stock is expected to yield a total potential return of minimum 20% and above in the next 12 months.

HOLD: This refers to a valuation where a stock is expected to yield a total potential return between 0-20% in the next 12 months.

SELL: This refers to a valuation where a stock is expected to yield a total potential return lower than 0% in the next 12 months.

Recommendation	Potential Return (PR), 12-month
BUY	≥%20
HOLD	%0-20
SELL	≤%0

Deniz Yatırım analysts evaluate stocks in light of potential catalysts, triggering developments, and risks, as well as market, sector, and competitor developments. After publicly disclosing general investment recommendations, our analysts closely monitor stocks. However, if stock price fluctuations cause values to exceed the limits of our rating system, our analysts may choose not to change their recommendation regarding the stock and/or place it Under Review (UR). There is absolutely no time constraint for our analysts in terms of rating and/or recommendation updates in the event of a potential UR. From a valuation perspective, if there is mathematical potential for an increase or risk of decline, our analysts may make recommendations outside the BUY-HOLD-SELL framework. They consider the general trend and recent developments in the sector and company beyond potential return levels that form the basis of the rating. In such cases, the evaluation may consider various factors, such as general sector conditions, potential risk and return, parameters in the latest financial statements, and political and geopolitical factors. Our analysts do not use a mechanical process that only considers mathematical values when making BUY-HOLD-SELL recommendations.
